

This Is Not Spam, Please Find Time To Read

I have nothing to sell, I love humanity, we can change the world.

Hello this is Cory Endrulat. I wanted to reach out because I'm an individual, age 23, local to Odessa and Trinity, and I'm passionate about changing the world and my generation. This may be strange that I'm reaching out but it's because I've been looking for land around the area to help prepare our community, also as a demonstration site for freedom and natural living. This could include totally off-grid airbnbs, a self-sustainable beautiful food forest (lowest effort, highest yield, lowest cost food), events (farmers markets, education, health), doing partnerships with local businesses, providing a nursery, getting my generation involved and learning what they haven't been taught and providing them with a sense of purpose and empowerment. I care a lot, I'm doing everything I can to help create a better future. We have all the people, developed awesome ROI models and it will be life-changing! I would love to meet in person or share on the phone, because it's important to me that I share these ideas in a more personable way, so you can feel it out and learn what I'm trying to do. I'd appreciate any and all input or guidance, or even if you know anyone, or if you want to get involved. Whether we start small or big, I'm also open to other people's visions, but a lot of people want to see this happen, Food Forestry and permaculture, off-grid living is a growing trend. Finding land is tough around here as you may know, many people want healthy food and are worried about the future and our freedoms; we can address and help all of that, I've seen it in action since I'm great friends with people in St. Cloud, Galt's Landing who have 50 acres, doing massive events, going on TV and showing what's possible; I'm grasping an opportunity in a world that needs it. I also hold free educational events monthly in Tarpon Springs at Moonberry Mercantile. Thank you so much!

More about the project: theliberator.us/project

~ Cory Edmund Endrulat ☺

Author, Content Creator, Health Coach and Organizer

Text: 570-977-0950

All My Links: taplink.cc/coryhealth